Assignment 4

Written assignment : Unanswered question .

When should we prefer generative models ( to learn $P(x|y)$ )
over discriminative models ( to learn $P(y|x)$ ) ?

What practical criteria (such as sample size, distributional assumptions, missing data ) should guide this choice ?